Dear Delaware Law Alumni and Guests:

I am delighted to welcome you to the 2017 Delaware Law Alumni Reception. The strong turnout at this event gives testimony to the loyalty and commitment our alumni have to Delaware Law School and how deeply you value the quality of your education and the relationships formed there.

It is a point of great pride to all of us at Widener University that our Delaware Law alumni community includes scores of distinguished judges, prominent attorneys and corporate leaders. Your education prepared you to take on these leadership roles and our society is better as a result of your many contributions.

Thank you for continuing your engagement with Delaware Law School. Your presence here tonight demonstrates to future graduates that you value your education and provides a model for those who aspire to similar success.

Please enjoy the reception. I hope it inspires you to become further involved as Delaware Law takes on the challenges and embraces the many opportunities ahead.

Warm regards,

Julie E. Wollman, PhD
President

Dear Alumni and Friends:

Welcome to the Alumni Reception.

We are at a critical juncture in the history of the Widener University Delaware Law School. I am looking forward to meeting with you individually at the Reception, and also to taking a few moments during the Reception to provide you with a concise but forceful summary of the state of the Law School. We are pulling out the stops to revise our curriculum to dramatically improve our bar exam passage rates, and to provide our students with more practical educational experiences that include their actual skills and competencies to practice law.

We are also in the process of recruiting a robust “volunteer army” of alumni and friends of the Law School to assist us in greater alumni engagement and support for the long-term financial stability and prosperity of the Law School.

I thank you for your engagement and support, and look forward to seeing you and speaking to you at the Reception.

Sincerely,

Rodney A. Smolla
Dean and Professor of Law
